4000 RAILROAD SHOPMEN GIVEN REVISED RULES

Important Changes Handed Down By U. S. Railway
Board Today.

VAST SUMS ARE SAVED

Foundation Is Laid for the Adjusting of Quarrels
On Wage Issues.

(By the Associated Press)
CHICAGO, Dec. 1.—New working rules for the four thousand railroad shopmen including at least two important changes were handed down today by the United States railroad labor board. This decision supplanted the agreement entered into by the employers and the United States railroad administration on September 20, 1919.

The decision will result in an estimated annual payroll saving of $50,000,000 to the railroads and form the basis upon which a justification of all wage disagreements between railroads and their employees will be based.

The rules were passed unanimously by the board including the vote of A. O. Wharton, of the labor
group, who cast a dissenting vote
upon the last wage cut.

One of the most important changes was the permitting of apprentices to do certain repair work
formerly restricted to journeymen
in that craft. Another change providing for representation of minority class in presentation of grievances to meet the contention of the railroads that all national agreements practically forced a closed
shop on the railroad.

"Open Shop" Forecasted.
Economies in operation and increased efficiency, and recognition of the "open shop" on all American railroads were forecast in the promulgation of revised working rules governing railroad shop employees by the United States Railroad Labor Board.

The new rules become effective tomorrow, December 1, and take jurisdiction over approximately 400,- 000 men immediately, although a still larger number will be affected
when the normal traffic conditions
are restored.

Far reaching changes in the rules
which supplanted the National Agreement made during federal control,
were designed to afford a basis
for permanent stability in the railroad shops of the country and were declared by members of the Labor Board to be the most important work yet done by the board and
of much greater significance than any decision in the past, even including wage scale adjustments.

Large economies are expected to result from revision of the classification rules, which were made more elastic, and hereafter will permit members of certain crafts to do minor jobs previously done by members of other crafts. Statisticians attached to the Labor Board
estimated that economies in operation, increased efficiency and larger output, would approximate $50,- 000,000 a year.

Minorities Given Voice.

Provision for the representation of minorities who may have grievances is another important item of the new rules. Under the National Agreement, negotiation for employees was placed almost wholly in the hands of labor organizations, with the result that the railroads and many industrial and civic institutions declared that the agreement forced a closed union shop on the roads. Non-union men found it practicable to attempt to bring their grievances before the board
and as the rules worked out, union officials handled the cases, taking precedent from the National Agreement negotiations in which union officials acted for the employees in drawing up the agreement under federal control.

"The principle of the open shop
established by the new rules," said
a statement by board members said,
"will in fact, be more theoretical
than practical at the present time, since a large majority of the railroad shops are unionized and the existing unions are recognized by the board and the Transportation Act as representative of the majority."

"Most of the older working rules, sanctioned by the experience
of years, are preserved in full effect. Many of the more rigid rules,
however, were considerably relaxed
in favor of the roads, although the recognized rights of the men are fully protected and the principle of collective bargaining and union
recognition is retained, as con-

GIRL EXPELLED FOR POWDERING HER FACE

KNOBLE, Ark., Dec. 1.—A writ of mandamus asking that she "be restored to her rights in the public schools"
has been filed here by Miss Pearl Bugsley, 18 years old,
who claims she was dismissed from the public schools
here by the board of directors
for using a face powder.

High School officials have issued a statement in which they declare that no face
powders, cosmetics, rouge,
peek-a-boo wais, thin stockings or abbreviated skirts
would be tolerated if worn by students. The justice of this ruling will be determined in the Bugsley girl's action now pending.

SEEK TO REDUCE HORRORS OF WAR IN ARMS PARLEY

Government Wants Action
To Control New Forces
of Destruction.

GATHERING UP FACTS

When Experts Report, U. S.
Hopes That World Will Hear Its Plans.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—If the American government has its way
the opinion of civilization with regard to the use of poison gases and other agencies that have contributed to the horrors of modern warfare
will be expressed for the first time
in history in an authoritative manner and in language so plain that it cannot be misunderstood through the medium of the Conference on the limitation of armament now
in progress.

It is the prevailing opinion in high official quarters here that the time is ripe for such an expression.
The horrors of the war just ended
are still fresh in the memory of mankind and are coupled with the dread of more terrible affliction that may follow the employment of new chemical agencies in future wars.

The work at present carried on by the three separate boards of experts, who are investigating these new agencies for warfare under the supervision of the conference Committee on Armaments, is of the utmost significance and importance.
The three expert boards, composed of men whose identity has not yet been revealed, have been instructed to consider these three topics:

1. Aircraft—their quantity, character and use.
 2. Poison gases.
 3. Rules for the conduct of war.
- The findings of these boards, of course, will not be final. They will report to the standing committee to which matters having reference to armaments generally are referred by the conference. This committee in turn, with the findings of the expert boards as a basis, will make its report to the conference which subsequently, in all likelihood, will consider this in plenary session.

Will Gather Available Facts.

The experts will gather all available facts on the subjects. It will be their task to assemble all the facts available with regard to the strides made in chemical warfare
since the World War ended. The progress made in providing new resources for the principal military powers in this direction, it is admitted here, is greater than the progress made during the years of the war, although about the time the war ended this and other governments involved in the great conflict had perfected gases of tremendous destructive potentiality.

It was learned that there were three distinct groups of opinion in the conference with reference to the employment of these new agencies. One group holds that it would be futile to restrict the use of such means, because with the formula
in possession of a nation's military experts, that nation, under the stress and "necessities" of war
would not scruple to take advantage of its knowledge. Another group is of the opinion that in view of the inhuman use made of poison gases and other new agencies of warfare in the late war, their use
should be prohibited in future warfare. A third group occupies the middle ground, holding that some degree should go out for limitation of the use of such instruments of

LIFE SPAN TO GROW TO 100 YEARS IN 2074

NEW YORK, Dec. 1.—One hundred and fifty-three years from now, or in the year 2074, health conditions in this country will be so good that the average person will live 100 years, according to several Red Cross statistical experts.

These statisticians based their 100 years idea on what they called "past passing out performances." For instance, in 1910 in New York persons died at an average age of 35
and in 1920 they shuffle along
into the next world at an average age of 39. This upward trend has been from 18 years
in the 16th century to 28
years in the 20th century.

JAPAN REJECTS NAVY RATIO AS U. S. SUGGESTS

High Naval Officer Says
Country Can't Accept
Hughes Plan.

"WINTER SIEGE" SEEN

Nipponese Will Stand Firm
In Conference for a 10-10-7 Plan.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—Unconditional rejection of the American proposal for naval reduction to a 5-5-3 basis will be Japan's final ultimatum to the conference, was stated today by one of the chief naval advisers of the Japanese delegation.

The Tokio delegation will throw
the armament and Far East conference into a "winter siege" rather than recede from their demand
for a 10-10-7 ratio, the high naval expert declared.

In explaining Japan's determined stand, the Nipponese naval authority adopted General Grant's famous declaration "We will fight it out along this line if it takes all winter."

At the same time it was declared
Japan has no intention of "bolting
the conference," irrespective of the outcome of the naval deliberations.
The delegation of the island empire is in full accord with the Hughes proposal "as a principle"
but is irrevocably opposed to the American "interpretation."

Refuse to Compromise.

"The Americans will not agree to the Japanese method of determining existing naval strength," the naval authority said. "Japan cannot and will not agree to the American method of determining actual naval strengths. We cannot and will not compromise on the American plan."

The naval expert said the result of such a deadlock means that the issue will be thrown back to the chief delegates of the three powers where Japan will maintain the same attitude.

"The Hughes plan is inconsistent with itself," he continued. "In the preamble to his plan Mr. Hughes set forth that no nation is expected by any other to disarm itself to a point of endangering its national safety. In his program for disarmament, Mr. Hughes then sets the limitation ratio at 5-5-3. In other words, Japan is allotted a navy 60 per cent in tonnage of the fleets of Great Britain and the United States. It is the contention of my colleagues that this endangers the national safety of Japan."

China Has Two Points.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—The Chinese arms conference delegates
in direct negotiations on the Shantung question, in order today, will,
according to Chinese spokesmen,
proceed on the basis that there are only two points on which China is prepared to negotiate and that these are Japan's demands that Tis-ing-Tao be declared an open port and Japan's demand that investors' interests be protected. The latter would be only partly susceptible to the negotiations.

China, it was stated, has not receded from her position taken at Versailles that Shantung be unconditionally returned by Japan.

Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Sandbach
have returned to Ada for the winter and Mr. Sandbach will look after matters for his oil concerns. Mr.
Sandbach was formerly Miss Gertrude Thompson, one of the most popular young ladies of the town.
These two will find a welcome back to the old town.

LANDRU AMUSED AS JURY SPEAKS DEATH VERDICT

"Thank You, Gentlemen" is Only Comment from the Slayer of Wives.

CHEERS HIS COUNSEL

Indomitable Spirit Is Not Crushed in Spite of the Grilling Trial.

(By the Associated Press)

VERSAILLES, Dec. 1.—Henry Landru, the "Bluebeard of Gambias" smiled last night for the first time since his trial opened. A flickering expression of amusement crossed
his face as he listened to the words of Judge Gilbert sending him to the guillotine for a series of the
most heinous
crimes in the history of France.

"Thank you, gentlemen," said
Landru, flourishing his weather-beaten hat in a mocking bow to the jury, and he disappeared through the little door leading to the Versailles jail.

While the verdict was being awaited, the convicted slayer of ten women and a boy spoke words of encouragement to his counsel, who,
tired and worn out after his strenuous efforts to save his client from death, was on the verge of collapse.

"Strange it is, that a man standing in the shadow of death should counsel his defender," Landru remarked at one time to those sitting nearby.

Refuses Lighter Sentence

He refused to be a party to a petition asking President Millerand
to commute the sentence to life imprisonment, which was signed
among others by the jurors.

"I refuse to ask for mercy," he told the latter. "A man like me wants justice, not mercy. You think I am guilty; then let me die."
His remarks after reaching the cell were also typical of this strange character, the records of whose deeds as unfolded in the dingy Versailles courtroom has drawn the attention of all France and thousands of persons in other countries.

"It has been a great show," he said. "I hope the public is satisfied.
I give rendezvous for the end of February or the beginning of March to show you how an innocent man dies."

OIL MILL WINDS UP SHORT PERIOD OF COTTON WORK

Office men of the Osage Cotton Oil Mill are this week finishing up the season's work and preparing for closing the mill until another season. Mill operations were ceased October 30, but a force has been kept at the mill to complete other business and office work. Closing of the mill ended one of the shortest seasons in years, as it was only run for a period of about thirty days.

On account of the shortage of the cotton crop this year, the mill here
was selected from a string over this district as that which was to handle cotton seed for this section. As a result, cotton seed from Shawnee, Holdenville and Weleetka, Wagoner
was shipped to Ada.

Mill officials stated today that, judging from ginners' reports, most of the cotton growers had marketed their seed, keeping but a small quantity for planting next year. The warmed of the seed this season was about average, it is said.

Closing the mill brings about a lay-off for a force of from 65 to 70 men. Good progress was made at the mill this season and little machinery trouble was encountered,
it is reported. Accidents were on a minimum, none being of a serious nature.

SEVERE STORMS ALONG TEXAS COAST FORECASTED

storm warnings on the Texas coast from Port Arthur to Velasco, were sent out today by the New Orleans weather bureau. Small crafts were warned of winds from Velasco to Brownsville. A disturbance over the Texas Panhandle will cause fresh to strong southerly winds today and tonight, the bureau adds.

POINTERS ON THE
ART OF MILKING

(Hoards's Dairyman)

Affectionate relations between cow and milker have much to do in obtaining the most milk and butterfat. "The milker should become the cow's calf." Rough treatment, loud talking, impetuous movements which startle the cow and are followed by a yell, a kick, or a slap result in loss of milk and butterfat. The more highly developed the nervous system of the cow the greater the effect of the treatment. It may be said with safety that this is one reason why some men who are accustomed to poor cows and poor methods of handling them are sometimes disappointed with the results from their first investment in pure-breds. The more highly bred the cows are the greater the necessity of good milking, proper feeding, and kind treatment.

To obtain good results in hand milking the motion of the hand should be deft and pleasant to the nerves of the udder and teats. Twisting, pinching, or exerting uncomfortable pressure upon the udder or any part in the immediate vicinity of the udder, will result unfavorably upon the mysterious process taking place in the lacteal glands.

Milk secretion occurs chiefly during the operation of milking, otherwise a fresh cow when killed would have in her udder a painful milk instead of the quart or two usually found. No doubt the milk-making materials are largely accumulated in the udder between milkings, but the actual secretion takes place principally during the operation of milking. When we speak of cows "holding up" their milk we do not mean exactly what we say. We really mean that the cows are not using all the milk-making materials assembled in the glands. The fact that a cow has been stripped out dry is no guaranty that she has yielded all the milk that a more skilful milker could have obtained from her. A poorer milker may sit down to a cow that has been accustomed to give 20 pounds at a time and obtain not more than eighteen pounds of milk. The regular milker may follow and strip her out again unless he has waited for some time the chances are he will be unable to obtain more than a few strippings from each teat. The two milkers cannot, as a rule, secure at this milking as many pounds as the skilful one could have done had he milked the cow in the first place. Absence of strippings is not sufficient evidence that cow has been well milked. A better indication is the appearance and feel of the udder its slackness as compared with the usual condition of the same udder after milking. Cows, of course, differ widely in the degree of tension of their milk glands when these are empty of milk.

One milker may excel with one cow but fall short in the case of another. The size, shape and set of the teats have something to do with this; so also, perhaps, the temperament of the cow. It is conceivable that a quick motion may be congenial to one cow while a long, steady pressure of the hand might suit another better. I am certain there is a difference in the adaptability of cows to different milkers. Drawing upon negative as well as positive evidence, it may be said that the operation of milking should be quietly, systematically, and rapidly accomplished with as much full hand milking as possible. At the last the strippings are called for, but the process of strippings should not be too prolonged at ten the cow is liable to acquire a tendency for this.

It is needless to say that cleanliness is a feature of vital importance in milking. On my farm I am careful to see that the teats, udders, and flanks of the cows are thoroughly brushed with a soft brush and then rubbed with a damp cloth before the milking begins. This is done a short time before milking in order to allow dust particles and hair to settle and not fall in the milk pail. Regularity in milking is essential also. The hour at which the milking is done in the morning is the hour at which the operation should be performed in the evening. On my farm the milking is done about 5 o'clock both morning and evening. Most people dislike to milk but I have never considered it more unpleasant than other kinds of farm work.

Children's Laughter a Pleasing Sound

Altoona, Pa.—"I am writing to tell you what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. We had six children die almost at birth. From one hour to nineteen days is all they have lived. Before my next one was born I took a dozen bottles of your Vegetable Compound, and I can say that it is the greatest medicine on earth, for this baby is now four months old, and a healthier baby you would not want. I am sending you a picture of her. Everybody says 'That is a very healthy looking baby.' You have my consent to show these few lines to anybody."—Mrs. C. W. BENZ, 131 3rd Avenue, Altoona, Pa.

Mrs. Janssen's experience of interest to childless wives.

Millston, Wis.—"I want to give you a word of praise for your wonderful medicine. We are fond of children, and for a considerable time after we were married I feared I would not have any. I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it strengthened me so I now have a nice, strong, healthy baby girl. I suffered very little at childbirth, and I give all the credit to your medicine, and shall always recommend it highly."—Mrs. H. H. JANSSEN, Millston, Wis.

Mrs. Held of Marinette, Wis., adds her testimonial for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. She says:

Marinette, Wis.—"I was in a nervous condition and very irregular. My doctor advised an operation. My husband brought me one of your booklets and asked me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It overcame my weakness so that I now have a healthy baby girl after having been married nine years. I am glad to recommend your medicine, and you may use my letter as a testimonial."—Mrs. H. B. HELD, 330 Jefferson St., Marinette, Wis.

There are many, many such homes that were once childless, and are now blessed with healthy, happy children because Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has restored the mother to a strong and healthy condition, as it acts as a natural restorative for ailments as indicated by backache, irregularities, displacements, weakness and nervousness.

Women everywhere should remember that most of the commoner ailments of women are not the surgical ones—they are not caused by serious displacements or growths, although the symptoms may be the same, and that is why so many apparently serious ailments readily yield to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, as it acts as a natural restorative. It can be taken with perfect safety and often prevents serious troubles.

Therefore if you know of any woman who is suffering and has been unable to secure relief and is regretfully looking forward to a childless old age, ask her to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, as it has brought health and happiness into so many homes once darkened by illness and despair.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Private Text-Book upon "Ailments Peculiar to Women" will be sent to you free upon request. Write to The Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Massachusetts. This book contains valuable information.

4000 RAILROAD MEN GIVEN REVISED RULES

The rules controversy dates back to May 1, 1920, when the railroads emerged from government control. Strenuous objections to the National Agreement were made in a hearing which began January 19, 1921. After several months of testimony, the rules were referred back to the individual roads with instructions to negotiate such new rules as they could with their employees to replace the federal government rules.

Replace Contested Rules.
Numerous rules were thus agreed upon on individual roads, but on no road was it possible to draft an entire new set. The rules disagreed upon were then sent back to the Labor Board, and the rules promulgated today will replace any such rules not agreed upon by the roads and their employees. In any case where a rule has been agreed upon by the carrier and its employees, that rule governs, even though the Labor Board rule may be entirely different.

The majority of the changes effected by the new rules is in the classification of the work to be performed by the various crafts. Almost without exception these classifications are made more elastic. Under previous agreements with the shop crafts, including the National Agreement, it has been the custom to define in detail the various types of work belonging to each craft. The carriers have complained that the National Agreement set up in such minute detail the classification of duties that work not requiring specialized skill in any craft was assigned exclusively to a particular craft. For example work not requiring a mechanic's skill was assigned to a skilled mechanic, thus making efficient and economical operation impossible, according to the railroads.

Craft's Work Broadened.
The rules effective today broaden the scope of each craft's work. The machinist working on running repairs may connect or disconnect any wiring, coupling or pipe connections necessary to repair machinery or equipment. This work was previously assigned to electricians and sheet metal workers only.

Under the new rules, engineers, firemen and crane men are not prohibited from making such repairs to equipment on the lines of the road as they are qualified to perform. The new rules thus allow train operatives to perform repair work even though it is ordinarily considered shop mechanic's work.

Food Remittances, Instituted by Hoover, Save Many Russian Families from Death

The package shown at the right means life to 800 Russian families like this one, consisting of father, mother and eight children, which the photographer snapped as they were in flight from their home in the heart of the famine zone. The smiles on the faces of the youngsters are due to the fact that the cameraman found some white rolls in his grip sack and passed them out before he posed the refugees alongside the road.

Tens of thousands of the inhabitants of the vast territory swept by drought are facing, they know not where, in search of something to eat. The total population of the famine area is about 15,000,000, according to Colonel William N. Haskell, director of the American Relief Administration's Mission to Russia, while as many more inhabit the food shortage belt and are rapidly nearing a state of starvation.

That's where the package in the picture comes in. When the American Relief Administration discovered that its free mass feeding of 1,200,000 Russian children this winter would not even take care of half of the little sufferers, not taking the grown-ups into consideration at all, Herbert Hoover, chairman of the organization, broached to the Soviet authorities the feasibility of instituting a Food Remittance system whereby friends and relatives residing in America could purchase for adult famine victims at an expenditure of from $10 to $50, a maximum quantity of the most highly nutritional food and receive assurance that it would be delivered to the adult persons they designated in Russia. The Soviet authorities gave their approval and for several weeks remittances have been going forward. The package pictured above comprised the first eight hundred $10 remittances forwarded from New York on the Adriatic. They were dispatched from the A. R. A. offices in London by courier to Moscow and from there distributed among the warehouses, all stocked with foodstuffs, near the homes of the recipients. The warehouse notifies the adult in whose favor the remittance is drawn to come and get the food. He receives flour, condensed milk, beans, rice, hominy, cooking fats, sugar, tea or cocoa, and soap. No one could possibly purchase in the United States at retail and send to Russia anything like the quantity of food that is delivered by the Food Remittance plan. Besides that, the American Relief Administration assumes all the risk from the time the Food Remittance is purchased in America until the food is delivered to the adult recipient at a warehouse in Russia. Applications to purchase Food Remittances may be made in person or by mail to the Russian Department, American Relief Administration, 42 Broadway, New York City. The applicant receives a blank which he must fill out according to instructions and return to the A. R. A. with a money order. Remittances may be purchased in units of $10 up to $50 for delivery to individuals, and up to $500 for delivery to recognized groups and institutions.

WORLD IRISH ARE GIGANTIC FAMILY

Conference To Be Held in Paris To Include Many Big Personages.

(By the Associated Press)
PARIS, Dec. 1.—The World Conference of the Irish Race to be held in Paris January 21, will bring together representatives of some of the leading families of France, Spain, Italy, Russia, Austria, the Argentine, and other South American countries, the ancestors of whom were Irish. These families migrated from Ireland as early as the 13th century and became nationals of the various countries, although frequently retaining their Irish names.

All the Irish race organizations of the world will send delegates and President de Valera of the Irish Republic has promised to attend. An exhibition of Irish art will form part of the meeting.

It is estimated that there are 25,000,000 persons of Irish origin scattered throughout the world.

The secretariat of the conference in Paris is working hard to reach the descendants of Irish families. Several hundred Americans whose ancestors were of Irish descent will attend. While there are to be only 200 accredited delegates, several thousand persons are expected in Paris for the week's meeting.

Revives Old Custom.
The convention will mark the resumption of an event which until the 13th century was an important yearly feature of Irish life. The last one was held in Ireland in the 14th century.

The cultural revival of Irish art and literature is the chief purpose of the convention. It is purely educational in character and in no way is connected with the Sinn Fein movement or Irish political hopes.

The renaissance of Gaelic culture has, in the opinion of those arranging the conference, received great impetus within the last 20 years, although little has been heard of this rebirth outside of Ireland. One of the aims of the conference is to inform those of Irish origin how far this revival has gone and to interest them in encouraging and furthering Irish art, literature and drama throughout the world.

The invitations of the "Aonae," or convention, have been sent by Mr. de Valera, himself. Fourteen of the largest countries of the world have already responded and will be represented by nations or Irish ancestry.

HAVE DARK HAIR AND LOOK YOUNG

Nobody Can Tell When You Daken Gray, Faded Hair With Sage Tea.

Grandmother kept her hair beautifully darkened, glossy and attractive with a brew of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Whenever her hair took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied, with wonderful effect. By asking at any drug store for "Weith's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, all ready to use, at very little cost. This simple mixture can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says everybody uses Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied—It's so easy to use, too. You simply dampen a comb or soft brush and draw it through the hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, it is restored to its natural color, and looks glossy, soft and beautiful. (a)

INDIA PLANS HUNTING FOR PRINCE OF WALES

LONDON, Dec. 1.—Shooting and hunting expeditions will vary the round of festivities and receptions arranged for the entertainment of the Prince of Wales on his tour through the Indian Empire now in progress.

Early in December he is expected to arrive at Bharatpur, where he will be given an opportunity to do some duck shooting.

Four days will be spent in hunting in the Nepal Terai where there is expected to be excellent sport in shooting tigers, the rhinoceros and other big game. There the Prince will have as a companion the Prime Minister, Maharaja Sir Shamsher Jung, who is a keen sportsman and who in 1911, entertained King George.

One of the most interesting of the Indian notables who will entertain the Prince is the famous woman ruler who bears the title of the Begum of Bhopal, the only woman ruler in India. Her three sons will help to entertain the Prince.

The Begum may not eat in public but, at the state banquet, she will appear and make a speech welcoming the Prince. She has a good command of English. Part of the program that she has arranged for the Prince is a tiger and bear shooting expedition.

The Prince also will be given an opportunity to hunt tigers in the preserves at Gaalior, where Premier Clemenceau, of France, went on his hunting expedition several months ago. This section is famed as one of the most certain haunts of the tiger in India. There the Prince will be accompanied by the Maharaja of Sindhia, who rendered great service to the Allies in the war.

WAGE SCALE FOR RUSSIA COMPLEX AS FEVER CHART

(By the Associated Press)

MOSCOW, Dec. 1.—(By Staff Correspondent of the Associated Press)—The Russian wage scale under present conditions is more puzzling than a fever chart. Every workman tells a different tale.

Apparently the standard wage for an average workman at the present time is about 50,000 rubles a month, while, at the time of writing is roughly equivalent to 50 cents. That is the wage of a workman employed by the government. But in addition there is a great variety of prerequisites, if he gets them.

"I am supposed to get a pound of bread a day, also free car rides between eight and ten in the morning and four and seven in the afternoon. I am also supposed to get a clothing and shoe allowance, but I get the orders for these things and find that the supply is exhausted," one workman who is employed with the American Relief Administration explained to the Associated Press correspondent.

"Oh, yes, I get some free theater and concert tickets, too," he added. When pressed to tell whether that was the entire amount of his income, the man admitted that he held two jobs under the government and sometimes got bread at two places. He knew of men who held three jobs and managed to keep themselves on three government payrolls. That was the only way it was possible to get enough to live on.

It is apparently very easy to hold a government position without giving many hours to the service, and consequently the positions are held to a considerable extent for the purpose of getting rations. Government employees engage in all other sorts of work. They run shops, sell their belongings in the markets, deal in wood, drive cabs and take real estate commissions.

Russians of high and low degree have undoubtedly acquired a great deal of keener money sense under the Bolshevik regime and the avidity with which they are taking to trade indicates that they will be less thrifless than in old times. Children, particularly are showing themselves to be sharp traders.

GRIFFITH WOULD MAKE MOVIES OF JUNKING FLEET

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—Motion picture producers, anticipating the scrapping of a large part of the navy, have come forward with a suggestion to dramatize the end. David Wark Griffith wrote to Secretary of the Navy Denby.

"Does this not offer a most fortunate opportunity to use this discarded fleet, before its destruction, as a vivid dramatic force to arouse the people against war? May I invite to your consideration a proposal that before this fleet is scrapped it be used for a few weeks in arranging a naval spectacle for a motion-picture drama, in which the activity of the fleet serves as a powerful climax of a drama which has for its theme the closer brotherhood of all mankind, also illustrating the futility and the stupid and terrible uselessness of war?"

Mr. Griffith concludes his letter: "We do not feel that this request is entirely selfish. I should be proud to do this work with as little personal reward as my obligations permit. Further, I should be most willing to stipulate that a fair percentage of all profits should be devoted to any cause which you, Mr. Secretary, or your advisers may indicate."

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY
THE BEAUTY OF HOLINESS:—Give unto the Lord the glory due unto his name; bring an offering, and come before him: worship the Lord in the beauty of holiness.—1 Chronicles 16:29.

A "TEMPORARY MAKESHIFT."
This is the characterization of the tax bill which has now become a law, made by the Chairman of the Finance Committee, Senator Penrose. It is such an extremely faint form of praise as to amount to severe condemnation. The truth is that no tax bill ever went to enactment amid such a general chorus of anathemas. Its reputed authors are obviously ashamed of it. Senator Smoot, who is probably the best financial authority in the senate, was so disgusted with the bill that he at first refused to sign the Republican majority report in its favor. Afterward, he announced that he would nevertheless vote for the bill merely as a choice among evils. It will go upon the statute book disliked and denounced.

No taxes are popular, and the mere fact that the tax bill has aroused violent opposition would not of itself be sufficient to discredit it. But the special reasons for the country's disappointment make the case exceptional. It is confessed that the bill, as passed, signally fails to carry out the pledges made by the party in power. This was explicitly stated by the president in his letter to Mr. Fordney. It is acknowledged by those in charge of the bill. They admit that their original plans to impose taxes in accordance with the promises of the republican platform were frustrated by a republican revolt in Congress. This is simply another way of saying that the republican leaders had not the courage or strength to lead. They surrendered to a small but menacing minority. It was an alarming confession of party demoralization and impotence.

Senator Penrose now asks the country to believe that in the next session of Congress the vices of the tax bill will be removed. But what reason has any one to trust this new promise coming on top of the broken promises of last year? If efforts are made in 1922 or 1923 to "place the tax system on a stable and scientific basis," as Senator Penrose predicts, it is certain that there will also be endeavors to make the system still more haphazard and unjust. And if we may judge by the precedent in this Congress, it is the latter attempt which will have the best prospect of success. Whatever hope of relief business men may cherish must be in the actual demonstration by experience that the new tax bill is disappointing in the returns which it brings to the treasury and in its harmful effect upon our national industry struggling to recover. Only by some such rude blow of hard facts upon the heads of Congressmen can they be expected to be stirred to the need of sound method and fairness in the levying of taxes.—New York Times.

THE BUYER'S RIGHTS.
The prospect of prohibition used to worry the ice man, but these last two years has dispelled his fears. He has not suffered, despite the loss of saloon custom, for the surprising growth of the soft drink and ice cream business has more than made up for it.

Ice men, in convention in Atlantic City, recently agreed that soft drinks really require more icing to be palatable than beer ever did, and that the ice cream manufacturer is one of their best friends. Then they turned their attention to other matters—to such standard convention topics as good goods, good merchandising and good service. Speaker after speaker stressed the need of better sales methods and better deliveries.

There were, however, no women on the program, and women are the best of all the ice man's customers. Now that they have the vote, they should seek representation in such a gathering, if for no other purpose than to regulate the ice man's shoes.

"THE HAYDEN BILL"
Congressman Carl Hayden, of Arizona, one of the ablest men from the West in the House of Representatives, has introduced in Congress a bill providing for the appropriation of $5,500,000.00 to be available over a period of time ending on June 30, 1927, to enable the Secretary of the Interior to co-operate with the Secretary of Agriculture and State Highway departments of several states in the construction and maintenance of highways adjacent to non-taxable Indian lands. This is in line with an amendment offered by Congressman McKeown to the $100,000,000,000.00 road appropriation bill in the 66th Congress, which passed the House unanimously but was defeated in the Senate. At that time it was estimated that there were approximately ten million acres of non-taxable lands in Oklahoma. Under the Hayden Bill nearly all the western states would be benefitted and receive the just and fair treatment at the hands of Congress which they merit.

Some men are continually harping on one idea because one is all their heads can possibly hold.

What Are Courts For?
(Tulsa World)
What are courts for? Yes, we are familiar with the theory of courts—that they are set up and maintained for the purpose of meting out punishment to those citizens found guilty of violating clearly defined statutes, and for the further purpose of ascertaining justice in disputes arising between citizens, said findings to be in accord with clearly defined laws or undisputed rules of equity.

But the occasional act of some judge seems to render such definition obsolete. There is the case of the Denver judge. Some authority, organization or neighborhood busy-body, hailed an Italian woman of Denver before the court for the purpose of showing cause why her children should not be taken from her, the complaint specifying that the children were "filthy and neglected."

The physician of the "authority or society or organization" testified that in his judgment the neglect was due to the mother bearing children too frequently. Then the following dialogue and judgment followed:

"What would you suggest as a remedy?" asked Judge Graham. "That Mrs. Cassidente submit to a sterilizing operation," replied Dr. Sunderland. "I will continue the case until January 10," the judge announced, "and in the meantime I want the doctor's suggestion carried out."

We should very much like to see the law on which that judgment was based. And if there is no such law—which of course there isn't—we would like to inquire where the learned judge acquired his authority for a judgment that in itself is violative not only of the laws of man, but likewise the laws of God.

The court had precisely as much right to impose such a judgment, as the doctor had to suggest it. Which means that neither had the slightest right. What is "neglect and filth" in legal procedure? Let the learned judge and petty-fogging doctor supply the answer to that question. Doubtless Lincoln came from a home that was "neglected and filthy" measured by standards of some of our modern uplifters. But it was a home which gave the world a genius.

If the wife from a home of affluence and immoral ease seeks sterilization, or if a physician performs such operation, then a formidable statute has been violated. But in the case of a helpless, ignorant foreigner, both doctor and judge conspire to violate precisely the same law. No government on earth will long endure when such things are tolerated in the name of justice.

The Denver incident is another incident in a long chain of events which shows the dangerous tendencies of government. The question is, when will the constant aggressions of government on the liberties of the individual and its constant invasion of natural laws put it across the line where it will be more hated than revered?

Fix that time and we will tell you to a nicety when the republic will fall.

Laugh for Your Brain's Sake.
(Collier's Weekly)
Perhaps not many people saw the little item in the paper recently about how General Pershing went to a fancy-dress ball disguised as a Turkish sultan, in red dressing gown and curly-toed slippers. It deserves repetition, because it showed that a man can have done a tremendous lot of work and carried a great load of responsibility and yet not have forgotten how to play. Play isn't something you do to kill time. Play is exactly as essential for a complete life as work.

INTERNATIONAL JOINT COMMISSION FAVORS LAKES-TO-SEA CANAL PLAN

Dotted line along St. Lawrence river indicates site of proposed ship canal; heavy lines indicate Erie canal and canal now under construction in Illinois to link Great Lakes with waterways leading to the Gulf of Mexico.

Construction of the St. Lawrence ship canal by the United States and Canada will be recommended by the international joint commission, which will report to congress and to the dominion parliament on Dec. 7. Engineers who recently reported favorably upon the project estimated that its cost would be about $250,000,000.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—(Special)—Construction of the St. Lawrence ship canal by the United States and Canada will be recommended by the international joint commission in its report to congress and to the Canadian parliament on December 7. The commission's report, it is understood, will closely follow that of the engineers who reported favorably upon the project and estimated that its cost would be approximately $250,000,000.

The proposed canal is being strongly opposed by the New York delegation in congress, on the ground that it will divert traffic from the Erie canal, and lessen the importance of New York city as a port.

The western agrarian bloc, on the other hand, is united in favor of the St. Lawrence plan.

"When the St. Lawrence ship canal plan comes before congress," Representative Mead of Buffalo declared, "it will be opposed by two other propositions. The first is a plan for an all-American ship canal and the other proposition advanced by Governor Miller, that the New York state barge canal provides everything that an enlarged ship canal would."

As a result of the recent inspection by members of congress of the New York barge canal, which is responsible for heavy inroads being made upon the strength of the St. Lawrence canal advocates, it is expected there will be some following for the idea that the barge canal should be given a fair trial.

The members taking this stand, then, will form one group, the St. Lawrence a second, and the supporters of the all-American route the third. As a part of the all-American route, a revised proposal has been advanced by Millard F. Bowen of Buffalo, who would build a sanitary canal around the outskirts of Buffalo to connect Lakes Erie and Ontario.

The other to connect Lake Ontario with the Atlantic would be provided by deepening the Oswego and Mohawk rivers to Albany and from there to New York deepening the Hudson river.

with enthusiastic approval by many prominent social workers.

I do not doubt the good intentions of these people, but I seriously doubt their wisdom. They would probably quote you "cleanliness is akin to Godliness" without a thought that it means anything more than physical cleanliness. But I can't help believing that it includes also cleanliness of heart and soul.

I hold no brief for physical uncleanness, but I hold that compared with moral uncleanness, it is of small moment. A bunch of Jews took Christ to task because his disciples didn't use water quite as freely as they thought necessary. But He made it very plain to those persons that it wasn't physical but

What They Say

Shall Motherhood Be Denied the Poor?
(By Frank Wolford)
Out in Denver, Colorado, Judge Graham of the juvenile court, has ruled that a mother of five children must either give up her children or submit to sterilization, for the reason that she does not keep her house and children clean and that the children are undernourished.

It was not charged that she was morally unfit. This ruling has met moral cleanliness that really made the man. It is unfortunate that any child should have to be brought up in poverty, dirt and squalor, but there are worse things than these—there are thousands of places of abode (not homes) where physical cleanliness is 100 per cent where in children have infinitely less chance to grow up into honest, useful men and women than in those of dirt and squalor.

It is entirely out of harmony with our conception of liberty that any judge or court should undertake to usurp any such power.

It is indeed fortunate for this country that social workers are a recent invention, for the right to be born would have been denied to many of the world's greatest people, among whom they probably would have included Abraham Lincoln and Jesus Christ.

NOWATA—"Thrifty tellers" installed in the Nowata schools by a building and loan association show a record of $345.55 saved in the grade school and $230.51 saved by the high school. Inquiries from as far as Aberdeen, Wash., asking about the thrift plan here, have been received.

TEAMS ON LEVEL TO OPEN SEASON

Doubleheader Friday Night
Will Introduce Series
of Caging Tilts.

Ada's basketball league will open its season here Friday night in the Normal gym with a doubleheader, Battery "F" vs. the Ada News team, and Teachers' college vs. Business college. These two games will be the first scheduled basketball contests to be played here this season. A special affair is being planned for the opening of the city basketball schedule, on which a total of 30 games are to be played. Prizes for winning quintets have been offered and all six clubs comprising the league have been practicing regularly for the last two weeks.

Material is plentiful for all squads and the clubs expect to develop some high class basketball men before the end of the season. Most of the games in the city league will be played doubleheader style. Ralph Warner, president of the league, has issued a statement to the effect that all games and activities of the league would be for the advancement of high class sportsmanship and that nothing of a foul or dirty nature would be permitted. The clubs have all been bound by contract to observe a set of rules and regulations which assures fans that clean sports will prevail here during the basketball season. None of the league games will conflict with the conference schedules of either the high school or teachers' college. Both these schools will have a conference team in connection with the team for the city league.

No dope on any of the teams to play tomorrow night has been given out, except that Coach Thompson of the College squad is giving his men some of the latest type of training hoping to round them in shape for the first contest. The Business college has not been practicing long. Battery "F" reports a good turnout for practice and the News team is making good showing. All will be about equally matched for the games Friday night.

"AIN'T IT A GRAND" GLORIOUS FEELING TO HAVE NO DEBTS

"SPEED" ADA STEPS UP AND PAYS HIS BILLS TODAY.

Young "Speed" Ada stepped up to the cashier's window today and paid up all his old bills.

"I want to wipe all the marks off the old slate," he said as he lighted the cigar the credit manager handed him. "And in the future I am going to try hard to pay cash as I go for everything."

It was just like the old days. Ada walked in, paid his bill, had a chat over the counter with the owner of the store and walked out tinging with the store owner's warm hand-clasp, and puffing industriously at the old-time cigar. Remember when you always used to get 'em when you paid your monthly bills?

"There are 2,000 names on the credit books of all the stores," J. E. Williams, secretary of the Retail Credit Men's association declared as Pay-Up campaign began this morning. "Four-fifths of them are good pay and from early indications most of these four-fifths are going to square accounts right away."

All of the big stores reported a prompt mail response to the pay-up plea. Clerks were busy all morning shaking checks from envelopes.

One merchant bared the psychology of store courtesy today.

"When you see all the clerks rush forward to greet a customer who enters with unusual cordiality you can put it down he is good pay," he declared. "The clerks like to wait on a man whose credit is good. They do not like to serve a man whose account is considered risky. A man can be a grouch, but if his credit is good he will be more welcome in the store than the man who is known as 'fine mixer' and 'good fellow' but had pay. Good pay and good citizenship go hand in hand. I have never known a man who paid his bills promptly to be an undesirable citizen in any way. He will meet his moral obligations the same as he does his material ones."

CASTLEBERRY GETS REDUCTION IN BAIL

Reduction of bond for Claude Castleberry who, with his wife, now constitute the defense in a criminal action arising out of the robbery of the Farmers National bank of Pittsburgh in September has been allowed by District Judge J. W. Bolen. Castleberry's new bail has been fixed at $10,000 but he was still in default today, the sheriff's office reported. Mrs. Castleberry is on bond for her appearance before the district court at its next regular session on criminal complaints. Disposition has been made of five other charges filed as a result of the robbery. Three men have plead guilty, one woman turned state's evidence, and charges were dropped against another woman.

STETSON WAIVES EXAMINING CASE

Alleged Principal in Gun
Serenade Bound Over
to District Court.

Jim Stetson, alleged "bad-man" who is charged with staging an aftermath all his own to a riding exhibition at the Fair Grounds Thanksgiving, must face the district court at its next regular criminal session.

He was bound over yesterday by Justice of the Peace H. J. Brown on a charge of assault with intent to kill. The complaint, filed by William Newton, proprietor of the "Honest Bill" show, asserts that Stetson fired point blank at Newton who took a hand in the alleged shooting spree being staged by the puncher.

Stetson entered a plea of guilty to the two side charges, one of carrying a weapon and the other of being drunk. In the first he paid a fine of $25 and cost and in the second a fine of $10 and cost. He also made bond of $1000 for his appearance before the district court on the assault with intent to kill charge.

When the rider appeared before Judge Brown he waived preliminary but outside of admitting that he was intoxicated on Thanksgiving afternoon and that he carried a gun, made no further statement.

According to the story as told by Newton, Stetson took the arena immediately after an orderly riding performance had been staged. Allegations charge him with firing once at a woman who objected to his conduct and twice at Bill Newton when the latter stepped at the head of the rider's horse in an effort to quell the disturbance. Stetson rode his horse out of the park and headed north on the main road out of Ada but was overtaken by Newton and Panhandle Slim, one of his riders, about a mile and a half north of the park. Stetson's gun was empty.

SERIOUS RIOTS IN VIENNA ARE REPORTED TODAY

(By the Associated Press)

VIENNA, Dec. 1.—Rioting of a serious nature broke out in Vienna today following a great demonstration before the parliament building where red flags were raised on improvised masts. The crowds then began smashing windows and looting shops dealing in articles of luxury.

Large crowds also attacked a number of fashionable hotels in most of which foreign guests reside. The New Bristol was the first of these hostleries to be assaulted, its great doors were battered down, thus permitting the crowds to pour into the building. They began to break windows, some of which as high as the third floor, and to hurl bedding and furniture on the mob crowd in the streets below.

Daddy's Evening Fairy Tale

BY MARY GRAHAM BONNER

NICK AND NANCY.

"Every year," said Nancy, "we have a talk this way with all of our friends. Then they sometimes write letters to us and they tell us which stories are their favorites and which they like the best."

"So many of them have such different favorites, just as we have, that we find, when counting up the favorites, that almost every kind of a story is a favorite with some one."

"There are many who like the animal stories best. We like to hear what the animals have to tell us, for all the things we hear of the animals are quite, quite true."

"Their stories are simply translated for us so we can understand their language. And the bird stories are favorites with many."

"Then the Fairies, and the Elves, and the Brownies, and the Gnomes, Witty Witch and old Mr. Giant have many friends, too."

"Some like the stories of the pigs best, and of the other barnyard creatures. Others have said they like stories of flowers and butterflies, and others like winter-time stories."

"So we have added up all the favorites and we have found that the animals had more friends than any of the others."

"And we love the animals best, too. For the animal stories are just as true as they can be, and it is nice to hear what the animals really do."

"But there are so many other favorites that we think we would like to go on having all sorts of stories, different stories every night of different things."

"Every once in a while we want to hear some of our old favorites again, like Porky Pig and Sammy Sausage, and Red Top, the Rooster."

"And so we think it would be fun to have stories of all the creatures possible, and hear about as many different things as we can, with some of our old friends appearing from time to time, and perhaps more animal stories than any others."

"We mean by animal stories, too, not only the stories of big animals, but of the whole animal world, which includes the birds and the different little living creatures. For birds, dear little singing, bright feathered creatures that they are, are favorites with many."

"And," said Nick, "let's ask all the boys and girls who know of us to write and tell us which have been their favorite stories lately. And we'll give them our address once more."

"Boys and girls! Please address all your letters to Mary Graham Bonner, 607 West One Hundred and Thirty-seventh Street, New York City. And then inside the envelope begin your letters to either of us, or to both of us. We love to hear from you. Do write us!"

"And boys and girls, we've something to tell you! You know we're too fond of animals to hurt them and bully them, and we want as many of you as possible to promise you'll do some of the things we're going to do."

"The first is that you'll never make a horse wear a tight check-rein, and you'll try to keep others from doing so, for you know you wouldn't want your heads held up like that, and neither would we."

"Second, we hope you'll promise that when you grow up you won't go hunting for the sake of hunting. There is no sport in killing. And we've heard that the deer trembled when they heard that the hunting season had begun and that men were coming for them with guns. We heard how the mothers looked at their children, and how they said, looking at them so lovingly and turning their pleading eyes toward the great woods:"

"Don't come here with your guns! We want to live. We are happy. We care for others. Don't make us lonely and sad because you think it is sport!"

"Third, do promise us that you'll never let any dog of yours have his tail or ears cut for style. It does hurt them terribly, no matter what any one else may say."

"Please promise us these three things, as we have promised them. And do write to us, for we love to hear from you."

Easy.

STARS ON LINE FOR BUCKEYE TEAM

Dean Trott.

Dean Trott, Ohio State University, is one of the men who have won names for themselves in the most thankless position on an eleven—that of guard. Under the modern style of play which minimizes the line plunging which gave the guard opportunities on the defense and offense the guard position became very inconspicuous. But Trott has made his presence felt by his spectacular work in plunging through the opposing line and spilling plays and in getting into plays after his work on the line has been completed.

CHRISTMAS SEAL SALE IS OPENED

More Than 100 Workers Start Out Thursday In State Drive.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Dec. 1.—(Special)—More than a thousand health workers start out today to sell 10,000,000 tuberculosis Christmas seals in Oklahoma in an effort to raise $100,000 for the fight against tuberculosis and other diseases in the state.

Having completed a thorough state wide organization under the direction of local health associations and county public-health committees, branches of the Oklahoma Public Health association, the public is requested to support the Fourteenth Annual Christmas Seal Sale.

Reports made to state headquarters in Oklahoma City are encouraging and bid well for success, according to Jules Schevitz, general secretary of the state association. Telegraph and telephone wires were busy this morning bringing messages of optimism and promises that Oklahoma would find herself high in the list of states when national returns are complete.

Health Bonds Offered.
In addition to the seals which are to be pasted on Christmas mail and packages, Health Bonds in denominations from $5 to $1,000 will be offered for sale. These bonds represent "investments in health" and are intended for the use of large business and industrial concerns.

The first few days of the sale will be used in obtaining the support and subscriptions of the heavy donors. The seals will then be sold in the homes, on the streets, in booths and by school children. December 4 to 10 will be Health Week in accordance with the proclamation of Governor Robertson. Sunday, December 4, is Tuberculosis Sunday with special prayers to be read in all churches. Infant welfare, school health, civic health and worker's health and soldiers' health days will follow in order and the week will end with seal sale Saturday which will mark the climax of the sale in many communities.

"The purpose of the sale is not solely financial," Schevitz said on the eve of the opening. "Though money is essential if this great humanitarian work of relieving suffering and preventing sickness is to go on, the distribution of millions of messages of health and good cheer this Christmas and the enlistment of thousands of Oklahoma individuals in the fight for better health is quite as important as the financial phase of the sale."

The sale has the unqualified endorsement of practically every fraternal and civic organization in the state including the state federation of labor, the state federation of women's clubs, the Masons, the Odd Fellows and the Knights of Columbus.

MISSIONARY IS HEARD BY GOOD CROWD IN CITY

Vivid descriptions of her labors in the missionary field were features of a talk given last night by Miss Esther Sarkey, native Syrian, at a praise service held by the Presbyterian church. She spent several years in the mission schools of Tripoli, Syria, as teacher and was reared at Mt. Lebanon.

A good crowd of church workers gathered to hear the visiting missionary, who is here to spend some time the guest of her brother, S. J. Sarkey, of 112 East Fourteenth street. Although Miss Sarkey has been in the United States only a month, she spoke English well and had little difficulty in conveying her message to an eager audience.

Interesting incidents in her work of training the Syrian youths were related by the speaker. She also told of her difficulty in memorizing the street address of her brother here and of the consternation registered by a local taxi driver when she gave him her brother's post-office box number instead of his street index.

Miss Sarkey expects to be in Ada some time and may decide to make her home here.

ACTION DELAYED ON NEW RULINGS

Opinion On 172 Revised Shop Regulations is Postponed.

CHICAGO, Dec. 1.—Action on the acceptability of the 172 revised shop rules produced by the United States railroad labor board will not be taken until after the first of the year, according to an announcement today by B. J. Jewell, president of the railroad employees department, American Federation of Labor, with which the six railroad shop crafts are affiliated.

New rules No. 148, which went into effect today, complete a new code of working agreements to replace the national agreement of control. Four of the 186 rules of the national agreement were referred back to the roads and their employees for further negotiations, while ten were eliminated altogether.

Because of the shop craft's pending request for a wage increase of 13 cents an hour over the present rate, the matter will come up in the regional conference with the roads December 20, it would not be possible to contest the new rules until next month, Mr. Jewell said. He declined to make any comment on the new working rules announced last night, because he said, he had had no opportunity to study them.

SANKEY MADE START ON LITTLE OIL LAND

TULSA, Dec. 1.—On a small oil lease in the Healdton oil field six years ago, Jack Sankey, formerly of this city, and a widely known oil man, who was found dead in his apartment at Fort Worth, Texas, laid the nucleus for what was to bring him a fortune of near $2,000,000 before his death.

Sankey was considered one of the most successful oil operators of Texas and Oklahoma.

He at once time associated with W. G. Skelly, to whom he sold his interests upon the formation of the Skelly Oil company about two years ago.

Following the disposition of his interests in Oklahoma Sankey moved to California, where he purchased the home of Eva Tanguay, the famous actress, in Los Angeles. His father, mother and his brother, Harry, now are living in Los Angeles.

When last in Tulsa about a month ago Mr. Sankey appeared to be in good health, there was no evidence of his being subject to any ailment. He was married for the fourth time in Fort Worth. Sankey came to Oklahoma in 1912.

Fort Worth police declared Sankey killed himself. He was found dead on the floor with a bullet through his heart. His Ardmore friends, however, discount the suicide theory, it was learned here.

Grand Jury Member Was a Disappointed Job Hunter—Small

(By the Associated Press)

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Dec. 1.—Charges circulated here for several days that the state was investigating alleged attempts to bribe grand jurors who indicted Governor Len Small, Lieutenant Governor Dred Sterling and Vernon Curtis for embezzlement, conspiracy and confidence games, culminated today in a statement from Governor Small, asserting that William D. (Buck) Evans, a member of the grand jury, circulated the story after failing to obtain money or a job from the administration.

The sensational charge was made through a statement in which the governor made public a letter received by him from C. H. Jenkins, director of public welfare dealing with alleged grand jury corruptions and purporting to be an expose of political forces at work to destroy Small and some of his colleagues. Governor Small made public two letters said to have been received by Director Jenkins from Evans, offering to trade information for grand jury scandals for jobs for himself and son, and threatening to make damaging affidavits if the jobs were not delivered.

Business houses of the city are beginning to prepare Christmas display windows. From the early interest shown by local retailers in Christmas selling, the display windows this season will rival any in former years.

SEALED VERDICT FOR SUTTER NOW EXPECTED SOON

BARTLESVILLE, Dec. 1.—“The state rests.”
With these words spoken three minutes after district court opened at 9 o'clock this morning, Clark Ferrell, county attorney, announced his conclusion of the presentation of evidence by the state in the prosecution of Lionel Sutter on a charge of assault with intent to kill alleged to have been made against his discarded sweetheart, Ladena Cole, pretty 16 year old high school girl.
In handling the defense, lawyers will put Sutter on the stand this afternoon and it is believed the case will go to the jury this afternoon and that a verdict will be returned sealed tonight, to be opened and read when the court convenes tomorrow morning.

INCH RAIN STOPS LONG DRY PERIOD IN THIS COUNTY

Rain which began falling about 9 o'clock last night and continued up until late today brought a welcome relief to crops in this section of the state, according to reports today. Wheat and barley, in this county, which had been suffering for lack of moisture, were greatly benefited by the rain. County Agent J. E. Hill states. It is also beneficial to farmers who will now be able to continue with their fall plowing.
Except for a small rain a few weeks ago, this section has been subjected to a draught since last July. The local weather man states that more than once inch of rain has fallen here since last night. Weather predictions for this section are that the cloudiness will continue until tonight, while Friday will be fair and colder. The lowering of the temperature will be due to the dampness of the air, it is said.

SEEK TO REDUCE HORRORS OF WAR

war and the mitigation of the horrors attending their use.
Just in what way the natural desire of a nation at war to bring into the conflict as a factor on its own side every destructive agency at its command, might be controlled by anything done here, is not clear from anything that has been said upon the subject in conference circles so far. In the opinion of many even an agreement reached here under the stress and hatreds of actual war would be in danger of being treated as the “scrap of paper.”

Information on Whitewashes.

(Taken from Barbers' Bulletin No. 474.)
Whitewash is the cheapest of all paints, and for certain purposes it is the best. Lime, which is the basis for whitewash, makes a very sanitary coating, and is probably to be preferred for cellars and the interior of stables and other outbuildings. The following directions for making whitewash are taken from “White Paints and Painting Materials” by W. G. Scott.
Ordinary Whitewash: This is made by slaking about 10 pounds of quicklime with 2 gallons of water. The lime is placed in a pail and the water poured over it, after which the pail is covered with an old piece of carpet or cloth and allowed to stand for about an hour. With an insufficient amount of water, the lime is “scorched” and not all converted into hydrate; on the other hand, too much water retards the slaking by lowering the heat.
“Scorched” lime is generally lumpy and transparent, hence the use of the proper amount of water for slaking and an after addition of water to bring it to a brush consistency.
Factory Whitewash: (Interiors) For walls, ceilings, posts, etc.
(1) Sixty-two pounds (1 bushel) quicklime, slake with 15 gallons of water. Keep barrel covered until steam ceases to rise.
(2) Two and one-half pounds rye flour, beat up in 1-2 gallon of cold water, then add 2 gallons of boiling water.
(3) Two and one-half pounds common rock salt, dissolve in 2-3 gallons of hot water.
(4) Mix (2) and (3), then pour into (1) and stir until all is well mixed. This is the whitewash used in the large implement factories and recommended by the insurance companies. The above formula gives a product of perfect brush consistency.
Weatherproof Whitewash: (Exterior) for buildings, fences, etc.
(1) Sixty-two pounds (1 bushel) quicklime, slake with 12 gallons of hot water.
(2) Two pounds common table salt, 1 pound sulphate of zinc, dissolved in 2 gallons of boiling water.
(3) Two gallons skimmed milk. Pour (2) into (1), then add the

How Murray Turned the Tide for Woodrow Wilson at Baltimore

In his book, “Woodrow Wilson as I Know Him,” by Joseph Tumulty, his private secretary, which is running in the Daily Oklahoma as a continued story, Tumulty says: “As will be recalled, the thing that prevented Champ Clark from gathering the full benefit which would have come to him from the casting of the New York vote in his favor was a question by ‘Alfalfa Bill’ Murray, a delegate from Oklahoma. He said: ‘Is this convention going to surrender its leadership to the Tammany Tiger?’ This stemmed the tide toward Mr. Clark and changed the whole face of the convention.”

Thinking it strange that this had not been recognized before, the editor asked Murray about it. He replied: “They knew it all the time, as did every delegate who attended the Baltimore convention in 1912. Mr. Wilson knew it while it was accruing as he sat at Segrit with wire connections that enabled him to hear the roll calls, speeches, the applause—everything said at Baltimore and he telegraphed McCombs to withdraw his name before my remarks were made, which was not a question as Mr. Tumulty put it. I said: ‘I do know one thing, we were not sent here to surrender to Wall Street, Belmont and Tammany Hall.’ Then a counter demonstration for Wilson started and lasted over 40 minutes. If you want to know, said Murray, ‘the real truth, excepting McCombs who knew, the Wilson men treated the statement as a ‘damfool remark,’ unwittingly made. But I never in my life deliberated more over what should be said and the psychological moment to say it. I had seen things happen before. When New York went to Clark a great demonstration followed for 30 or 40 minutes. I stood on a bench, as did everybody, with my arms folded while the applause was deafening all round me, thinking of something that could be done when a little fellow came up to me and excitedly stated that Mr. McCombs sent him with the request that you have the best voice of our forces and for God’s sake say something that will stop this.’ I replied, don’t get excited (he faints when he returned to the stage) but tell McCombs that at the proper moment I’ll shout the real dope to them.’ I awaited the continued roll call from the N’s to O’s—New York to Oklahoma—when I knew I’d be in order and then began as though I would change our vote to Clark and quickly uttered in a clear voice the above statement, knowing Chairman James would rule me out of order if I were not too quick for him. The counter demonstration began and from that moment Wilson never lost a vote. At the end of the roll call our forces moved to adjourn. After some caucusing, we sent Wilson delegates to all groups of the opposition saying: ‘keep it up—we’ll nominate Bryan yet,’ with a hope of scaring the east and it had the right effect. They voted the next day for Wilson fearing Bryan might be nominated.”—Tishomingo Capital Democrat.

milks (3) and mix thoroughly.
Lighthouse Whitewash:
(1) Sixty-two (1 bushel) quicklime, slake with 12 gallons hot water.
(2) Twelve pounds rock salt, dissolve in 6 gallons of boiling water.
(3) Six pounds Portland cement. Pour (2) into (1) and then add (3).
Note: Alum added to a lime white wash prevents it rubbing off. An ounce to the gallon is sufficient.
Flour paste answers the same purpose, but needs zinc sulphate as a preservative.
Molasses renders the lime more soluble and causes it to penetrate the wood or plaster surface; a pint of molasses to 5 gallons of whitewash is sufficient.
Silicate of soda solution (about 35 degrees Baume) in the proportion of 1 to 10 of whitewash produces a fireproof cement.
A pound of cheap bar soap dissolved in a gallon of boiling water and added to about 5 gallons of thick white wash will give it a gloss like oil paint.

COLLEGE HEADS SUDTY STATE AND EDUCATION

(By the Associated Press)

URBANA, Ill., Dec. 1.—Relation of the federal government to education is being considered here today at a national conference of educators called by the University of Illinois. The subject has of late come strongly to the fore through increasing tendency of the government to broaden its activities and a distinguished array of college presidents and others is here for its consideration.

Chief feature of the opening day will be Dr. David Kinley's installation as president of the University of Illinois tonight.

Samuel P. Capen, director of the American Council on Education discussed recent federal legislation on education at the initial meeting this afternoon. He was preceded by Eugene Davenport, dean of the college of agriculture of the University of Illinois, who spoke on "The Early Effects of Congressional Appropriations for Education," tracing the benefits which have especially accrued to state institutions through land grants and other federal gifts during the early days of development of public institutions of higher education.

Following his installation tonight Dr. Kinley will talk on "The Relation of State and Nation in Educational Policy."

The conference will continue all of tomorrow. Speakers on the morning program are E. W. Allen, chief of the U. S. Office of Experiment Stations, and Dr. W. O. Thompson, president of Ohio State University. Mr. Allen talks on "Problems of Administering Federal Appropriations to State Institutions," and President Thompson will speak on "Problems of State Universities in Administering Federal Funds."

Congressman H. M. Townner of Iowa, will address the conference tomorrow on "Federal Aid to Education. Its Justification, Degree and Method." He will be followed by Senator Thomas Sterling from South Dakota. Senator Sterling's address will deal with "Constitutional and Political Significance of Federal Legislation on Education."

WOMEN WILL ASK WHY MEN REFUSE TO CAST BALLOT

(By the Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Dec. 1.—Why men do not vote, what's wrong with the ballot and how politics handle electoral machinery—these are some of the problems that women voters have set to look into here Dec. 1 to 3. At this time the National League of Women Voters will hold its first institute on efficiency in government in Chicago.

"Its purpose," explains Miss Belle Sherwin of Cleveland, who is in charge, "is an expansion of the political education for women begun in our citizenship schools. We started with a study of government, the constitution and the laws and are going forward to consider much more carefully what political parties are doing with the institutions we are studying."

"If the league is a university for adult political education, I might say its citizenship schools present the freshmen course and this institute is a second year's course."

The program of the league is to study government as it is, government as it is practiced under the influence of party organizations, and government as it should be to get the participation of more people in it and more efficient administration, Miss Sherwin added.

"It has before it," she said, "two questions: what will make government more truly representative and what will make its operations more efficient in political units of every size?"

"This institute will cover only the first question. It will devote itself therefore to a study of the whole voting system."

"We are not planning a debate, but a school with one speaker at each session."

"We want to get over a medium of education which is non-academic and as far as possible a substitute for actual experience. We want to give women what you might call political sophistication."

Women for whom the institute is held, Miss Sherwin said are especially those who are "able to take back and set up method of presenting these fundamental things about participating in government to women who were not primarily interested in becoming voters."

AIRPLANE WRECK LOOKED INTO BY ARMY OFFICIALS

LAWTON, Dec. 1.—An investigation will be conducted at once into the airplane crash at Post Field near here late yesterday which resulted in the death of four army aviators, according to officials at the field today. Home addresses of the four airmen killed were announced this morning by B. E. Sauers, sergeant-major at the field. They are:

Capt. John F. Loomis, Columbia, Mo.; Lieut. A. J. Lanfall, Chicago, Private Guy N. Hubbard, Armstrong, Iowa, Private Percy H. Smith, Palm Beach, Fla.

The flyers were killed when the two planes in which they were doing combat work collided at an estimated elevation of 2000 feet and crashed to the earth a half mile east of the field. As the planes struck the earth, the gasoline tanks exploded and the wreck was burned. The bodies were charred beyond recognition.

Silent Directors of Inter-Borough Will Not Go Upon Stand

(By the Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Dec. 1.—Refusal of seven directors of the inter-borough Rapid Transit company to waive immunity in testimony before the state transit commission, lead to their dismissal as witnesses today on the motion of Clarence J. Shearn, commission's counsel.

August Belmont, chairman of the inter-borough board, said he was aware the director's action would be construed by some newspapers as a "half admission of our guilt," but with me it was a matter not to waive immunity.

ACCREDITED-HERD CAMPAIGN

Illustration of Manner in Which Owners Are Given Protection Against Tuberculosis.

The way herd owners value protection against bovine tuberculosis is illustrated, says a specialist in the dairy division, United States Department of Agriculture, by the experience of the Bonner Springs (Kansas) Bull association. Every member of the association, 11 in number, signed up for the accredited-herd campaign. They had 104 animals tested, and in 8 of the 11 herds no reactors whatever were found. Of the other three herds, each had just one animal affected by the disease.

At first sight some of the members thought the effort had been needless and not enough results shown. But when it was considered that the object sought was not merely to eradicate tuberculosis after it had appeared but to protect the herds against exposure to the disease, it was plain that the object sought had been gained.

REMOVE WARTS FROM CALVES

Small Tumor-Like Growths on Various Parts of Body Are Not Difficult to Destroy.

Calves are frequently troubled with small tumor-like growths on the lips, around the eyes, on the ears, and at the tail head. Occasionally other parts of the body are affected as well. Warts may best be removed by snipping them off with sharp scissors. A strong thread or a horse hair may be used in their removal by looping it over them and then by the application of force slowly severing them at their base. After they have been removed the roots should be cauterized with tincture of iron, glacial acetic acid, or lunar caustic.

PRODUCING MILK FOR PROFIT

Like Real Business Man Farmer Cannot Afford to Keep Unprofitable Producers.

The way to make money out of the production of milk, is to begin at home. Weed out unprofitable producers. No real business man will keep a workman in his employ a week if he is an unprofitable producer, and the cow is the dairyman's machine, the dairyman's workman.

(By the Associated Press)

BLOODSHED OVER IRISH DISPUTES STILL IMMINENT

LONDON, Dec. 1.—The possible renewal of bloodshed in Ireland confronted the British Isles in connection with the virtual collapse of peace negotiations which have proceeded under a truce for the last five months.

The Sinn Fein have stood firm on their demand for an all Ireland parliament, as basis of settlement, at the same time refusing to concede allegiance to the British crown. Ulster has refused point blank to scrap her own parliament to enter an all Ireland parliament, "under present conditions," on the grounds that she will come directly under the control of the numerically superior south.

WOMEN PLAY VITAL PART IN MOULDING DESTINY OF LAST WEST

IN THE CHILDREN'S HOSPITAL

PRINCE ALBERT, SASK.—Western Canada owes a tremendous debt to its women. From the first westward trek of settlers, women have had an important part in the development of the country. It was due to the presence of women on the frontier that the Last West has been a land of law and order.

In nothing has the effective influence of women been displayed to greater advantage than in the Women's Institutes. The first was founded only a few years ago. Now there are several hundred throughout the prairie provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta with a membership of many thousands.

The organized women have been active in securing beneficent legislation, establishing rural hospitals, improving schools, guarding the health of children, educating themselves to be wiser mothers and better housewives and in other ways making their farm life more attractive than it ever was before.

The institutes have founded community centers all over Western Canada. Here town and country learn to know each other. Through lectures and practical demonstrations, country women learn cooking, nursing, sewing, singing, and all the arts of the household. These centers are, in effect, schools, in which regular courses in domestic science are given.

A related activity is child welfare work. The women are deeply interested in the schools. In Canada the little red schoolhouse at the cross-roads approaches the town and city schools in successful educational work.

Especially valuable is the work of the institutes among the settlers making homes and winning independence on farms in the fertile region along the Canadian National Railway lines. This gently rolling, lightly timbered, well-watered country is ideally adapted to diversified farming where settlers that are pouring in are achieving prosperity not only in soil cultivation but in livestock raising, and dairying. Here the work of the institutes centers in brightening farm life and in inculcating the principles and traditions of free government that will make these settlers good Canadian citizens.

NEWTON AND WRAY MADE MAJORS FOR GETTING MEMBERS

William (Honest Bill) Newton Jr., and Walter N. Wray will be majors in the membership drive which will be a feature of "intensive membership week," Dec. 12 to 17, the fourth week of Ada's Chamber of Commerce Reorganization Movement.

The two majors will be pitted against each other in the drive with an organization of six teams to the major; each team consisting of a captain and six lieutenants. This will give two divisions of 43 members each, or a team organization of 86 in all.

The captains are being selected today. Meetings of majors, captains and teams will be held to perfect a team organization qualified to enlist the thinking people of Ada in a big modern Chamber of Commerce that will get results for Ada and be a source of pride to the community.

The membership drive, which is only one of numerous features of the eight week's movement, will begin Monday morning, December 12 and last through the mornings of the days following, up to and including Friday December 16.

Doctors Would Make Vaccination Orders Cover All of State

KANSAS CITY, Dec. 1.—The Jackson county medical association today started a campaign to make vaccination against small pox universal in Kansas City. A committee has been appointed to formulate some sort of decision as to just what constitutes immunity from the disease, in order that one may know when he must be vaccinated.

Almost a hundred persons have died since September 1 of small pox out of 285 cases, according to health officials.
